Friday January 12, 9:00-12:15pm

Topic: Exposing the Hidden Impairments associated with ADHD

Presenter: Courtney Cleminshaw-Mahan, PhD

Description: ADHD is a leading referral concern for behavioral health services among children and adolescents. However, despite its prevalence rate, the unique ways in which symptoms manifest as impairment are often misunderstood by both parents and professionals. This session will focus on exposing the hidden functioning impairments associated with ADHD and attendees will learn strategies to explain these relationships to caregivers and care-team members to better coordinate treatment.
